

Job Title: Trainee Dust & Fume Technician (LEV Technician)

Company: Environmental Filtration Specialists Limited

Location: Bathgate

Job Type: Full Time, 4 Day working week. Monday-Thursday 7am-5.15pm (39 hours per week)

Rate of Pay: £13.45 per hour

About Us

We are a family-run business based in Central Scotland, delivering LEV services nationwide. We focus on high standards, strong client relationships, and building a team that supports each other and takes pride in their work.

The Role

Environmental Filtration Specialists (EFS) are a specialist LEV engineering company supporting manufacturers across the UK. We are looking for a trainee to join our team and develop into a fully qualified LEV Technician.

Looking to start a hands-on engineering career with clear progression, strong earning potential, and recognised qualifications?

This is a practical role combining site work and office tasks, with structured training and a clearly defined progression pathway from day one.

What you'll be doing

- Learning to commission, test and balance LEV systems
- Assisting with Thorough Examination & Testing (TExT)
- Maintaining and repairing dust and fume extraction systems
- Fault finding and problem solving on live systems
- Producing reports using Microsoft Office
- Supporting day-to-day operations

What we're looking for

- Practical mindset and willingness to learn
- Good IT skills (Microsoft Office essential)
- Full clean UK driving licence
- Reliable and positive attitude
- Any industrial/site experience is helpful but not essential

What we offer

- Starting salary £26,000 (approx. £13.45/hour)
- Increase as you progress through structured development stages
- 4-day working week (Monday to Thursday, 7:00am–5:15pm)
- 7 weeks holiday
- Performance and company bonus schemes
- Pension
- Paid travel and expenses
- Tools, laptop, phone and PPE provided
- Fully funded industry qualifications including British Occupational Hygiene Society certifications

Additional info

- Some travel required
- Occasional weekend work may be required
- Mix of site and office-based work
